Collecting Your Winnings:

You will need to contact the Hoosier Lottery by phone at (317) 264-4800 and make an appointment to claim your prize. If you are part of a group, you will need to select a representative to coordinate your appointment, sign the ticket, and submit necessary documentation.

At your appointment, you will meet the members of the Hoosier Lottery's Security Division who will examine your ticket and confirm your identity.

You must bring a valid, government-issued photo ID

The decision to claim your winnings as a group must be made at the time you claim your prize. If applicable, group winners must all choose the same payment options. Winnings will not be distributed until all members have completed the necessary documentation.

Any debt owed to the State of Indiana will be taken out of your prize winnings and your check will reflect the balance. Whether you have a debt with the state cannot be determined until your prize is processed.

You may bring your professional advisors with you when you claim your prize. Your prize may be paid out as an annuity with payments paid annually, as specified in the game rules, or as a lump sum cash payment equivalent to the present value of the annuity payments as estimated by the Hoosier Lottery during the claims process.

Your winnings can be given to you by check or wire transfer. Some banks may hold checks for a period of time. Please check with your bank regarding its policies before you arrive. You must provide a voided check or an official statement on your banking institution's letterhead confirming an established bank account to enroll in wire transfer.

Future payments will arrive each year around the anniversary of your original date of claim.

Publicity:

Be yourself! Smile!

The Hoosier Lottery Public Relations Division will be by your side to guide you through publicity and media interactions. You should anticipate a press release containing your name, home city and details about your prize. The Hoosier Lottery may hold a press conference. (Indiana Code 4-30-3-7; IC 4-30-3-9, 65 IAC 8-1-3)

Our staff will review the questions that you might be asked during your news conference. This will allow you time to contemplate responses that you might be comfortable giving. If you don't understand a question, ask for clarification. If you don't want to answer a question, politely decline.

Solicitation:

After you claim your prize, you may begin to receive solicitations from various individuals. You may want to consider changing your telephone number and obtaining a post office box, as well as using an intermediary, such as an attorney or accountant, to review any requests and help determine those that might be of interest to you.

Effective July 1, 2014 Indiana law allows third parties to buy and sell lottery annuities.

The Hoosier Lottery is not affiliated with private sales of annuities and will not contact you regarding a sale of your annuity. (Indiana Code 4-30-11-2.5)

Please contact your attorney and the Indiana Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division at indianaconsumer.com if you believe you have been the victim of fraudulent solicitation.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Will I have to pay taxes on my prize?

The Hoosier Lottery withholds 25 percent in federal tax if the winnings minus the wager are more than $5,000 and 3.23 percent in state tax on any winnings that exceed $1,200. You may want to consult with a tax advisor to determine whether you will owe any additional taxes.

What if I'm part of a group of winners?

The Hoosier Lottery can make separate prize payments to individuals in a group as long as the group consists of 99 winners or less. The group representative will sign the ticket and claim form. You must complete IRS Form 5754 to claim as a group. Form 5754 divides the tax liability for group prizes. This form can be requested from the Hoosier Lottery or found on the IRS website (www.irs.gov). Valid government-issued identifications must be presented.

Where can I cash my check from the Hoosier Lottery?

Hoosier Lottery checks can be cashed at any Key Bank branch, with two valid forms of identification, 2.5 hours after issuance. You can also use your own bank.

Does the public have to know who I am?

The name, address and city of Hoosier Lottery winners are considered public record under the Indiana Access to Public Records law. The Lottery is required to provide reasonable access to a public record upon request, with some limits, including that in certain circumstances, the requesting person may not use your information for commercial purposes. The Lottery may also publicize your winning as authorized by law. (Indiana Code 4-30-3-7; IC 4-30-3-9)

What happens if I die before my prize is fully paid?

Any remaining prize money will be paid directly to your estate. Please consult financial advisors and your attorney for further information.

Will I receive a "big check" to take home?

Depending on your prize amount, your photo may be taken with a big check prop that is re-used, but you will not receive the prop to take with you.

What do I do if I move?

Be sure to notify the Hoosier Lottery in writing immediately with any changes to your name, address, or telephone number to ensure timely delivery of your annual payment.

What is my involvement with the Hoosier Lottery after I claim my prize?

If you chose the cash option, your business with the Hoosier Lottery is concluded once you receive your check. If you elect the annuity option, you will receive your prize check each year for the designated annuity period. Occasionally, the Hoosier Lottery may receive requests from the media to do follow up stories. We will forward the media contact information to you and let you decide if you want to pursue the opportunity.
